Party Government Again. best to write down Responsible Govern- a cotemporary. In the last sentence of ment. Before the New Constitution and patronage will be chief elements, etc." was formed, it only wanted from fifteen to twenty members to constitute the New Assembly. It impressed its readers with the notion that not more than that with the notion that not more than that mumber of fit persons could be found in the country. Its evident object was to perpetuate under the name of Responsible Government all the evils of the system of irresponsibiles; that has obtained here during the last twelve years. It failed in getting the Government to support was too evident that with a House of fifteen, in which sat five Executive Councillors, it would only require three mose to earry on the Government; and is that case the people would not possess a sufficiently large number of men to secure patriotic action on the part of the Legislature. Next, our cotemporary tried to show that the people were not fit for Responsible Government; but in the state of the measures a party intends to carry intends to carry of the measures a party intends to carry of the measures a party intends to carry intends to carry of the measures a party intends to carry of the measures aparty intends to carry government, it advocated restricting the fraction. The Helmcken-Carrall goverament carried out that illiberal measure; and the consequence is that the country everywhere, both rich and poor, better suited to the character of our popwhen the Civil List Act,—that will de-prive the next Assembly of its legitimate control over the Executive, so long as it remains on the Statute Book,—was adopted by six nominees and Helmcken and Carrall, in defiance of the protest of two thirds of the elected members, our cotemporary again set its face against popular rights, against the highest con-stitutional right of the people's representation—namely, to hold the purse-strings.
Only the other day it gave vent to its sneers at the idea of the Repeal of the Civil List Act, as it announced that it had been assented to in England. Now, as we have before stated, it is exerting itself to bamboozle the country into the belief that we can have Responsible Gov-

for Responsible Government; but in that too it failed. Not contented with out. Party fights for effice to put its that too it failed. Not contented with trying to deprive the people of pure self-government, it advocated restricting the the measures of a party cannot be carried to measures of a party cannot be carried out. Hence office with its consequent patronage are "chief elements," but not "the chief clements," of party. Let the people far and wide through this colony accept no candidate who is in favor of the fathers of the Civil List Act, Messrs. Helmcken and Carrall, nor their boilef that we can have Responsible Gov-ernment without party! The thing is such an utter absordity, that one might feel curprised that a public journal would publish such nousense, thinking to de-ceive the public. But no hing seems too absurd for our cotemporary to suggest or suppport, if it can see in it the means to get a few carpet-baggers installed in office. Every time, however, that it attempts to play off its jugglery, it sinks lower in the estimation of an intelligent public. There is not a man in the country who don't know that in Eng-land, Australia, and in the Eastern Plovinces, Responsible Government is party government, pure and simple. The idea of Mr. Gladstone carrying on his Government with a House of Commons in which there was no party, or of Sir J. A. McDonald doing the same in Canade, would be sheer nonsense. What is done there will be done here. They are our model governments; and in tollowing our models we will have to conduct our local government by party or relinquish responsible government and go back to the irresponsible system that hitherto obtained. Now possibly here lies the real secret wish of the Carpetlies the real secret wish of the Ca-pet-Baggers in whose interest the Colonist speaks. A "No-Party" would allow the Carpet-Baggers to sit in their offices, retain the C.vil List Act on the Statute book, draw their salaries and perpetuate the old insolent and tyrannical system over again. Possibly a well cooked No-Party Assembly might be induced to vote against Responsible Government,—and thus Messrs. Robson, and Carrall, would become the worthy successors to the offices vacated by Messrs. Trutch and Hankin. Party, then, is the only and Hankin. Party, then, is the only salvation for the people, if they don't wish those very consistent politicians to 'scramble after the loaves and fishes," heading a noble army of Carpet Bag-gers. It is amoning however, to wit-ness the attempt that the office-ecckers organ makes to convince the public that the Carpet-Baggers don't want the spoils of office, and that the STANDARD and Mr. DeComos alone cry—"To the victors belong the spoils." Still no one believes for a moment that the innocent Carpet-Reggers are not looking for the spoils; and for a very good reason. An intelligent public—British Columbians—expect to be governed by party, and they expect that the party in power will give any office that may be racant or that may require to be filled, and other patronage at its disposal, to those who may be attached to that party, when and wherever it is practicable. It is the English, Canadian, and American usage. It is New Assurances Effected the custom of all Governments everythe custom of all Governments everywhere, and it will be the custom here.

That is what we consider right and just.

Not give the official posts and official patronage to the enemies of the very party that succeeded in carrying them. It might do occasionally to bey up such people as Mr. Jo. W. Trutch or Mr. Jack S. Helmeken to silence their property but as a general principle. Mr. Jack S. Helmcken to silence their puny opposition; but as a general principle the patronage of a party should be given to the members of the party,—and that principle we endorse,—and that we are perfectly willing to be known any and everywhere under the cry—"To the victors belong the spoils." The Colonist however, with characteristic duplicity, attempts to make a quotation from this journal to mean that party was "an massemly scramble for office and pelf—for the leaves and fishes." Now no such such meaning can be attached to the such meaning can be attached to the utterances of this journal. On September 6th, last, we said what we say now, viz: "The inanguration of Responsible Government will give vitality to party. The line will try to live tain power,—to hold the offices and dispense the patronage of the country. The Outs will make all constitutional efforts to turn the Ins out—and in turn become the Ins. Both parties will bid and outbid each other for popular favor. Office and patronage will be obtained all the offices and in turn become the Ins. Both parties will bid and outbid each other for popular favor. Office and patronage will be obtained all the offices and in turn become the Ins. chief elements in keeping party together." We don't withdraw a single word to-day from what we attered then in the above Our morning cotemporary is trying its journalist who falsifies the utterances of > apologist, Mr. Robson, as the leaders of party, and they will find that the Liberal party will command an overwhelming majority at the next election. New Advertisements

A correspondent of the Boston Traveller writing from St. John's Fewfoundland says : It is curious to find old customs that have long since died out in Britain and Ireland maintained in full force in this outlying corner of creation. Early settlers brought them from the Fatherland, and in a region where few new idea intrude to override and efface the old one these ancient usages hold their ground, and occasionally "crop out," like some palaeozoic r ck that comes to th s irface in the midst of r cent formations, 'Lake as an instance of this, "The Burial of the Wren" on St. Stephen's day, the 26th of December. The party join in singing the following rhyme at each door :

EDITOR STANDARD :- After the 20th of this nouth British Columbia will be a military district of the Dominion of Canada, and all British subjects, and of the age of eighteen ears and upwards, and under sixty will be enrolled for military duty, with but few exceptions, and placed under the discipline and command of the Adjutant General of the Dominion. There will be appointed one Deputy Adjutant General of Militia for this district, who will have the rank of Lieutenan Colonel, and who will command the Militia in this Province. Now, looking forward to the short time when I am to become a soldier, and when I shall also be subject to the Queen' regulations and rules and articles of War, and to the act for punishing mutiny and desertion, and all other laws that are applicable to the Queen's troops in the Dominion of Canada, all which involves death or imprisonment for any contravention of such laws, I ask myse the quest on who is to be the Deputy Adjutant General for this district? Some people say that Mr. Good, he Police clerk, is going to b the man, and that Mr. Tru ch has recommended him to Sir George E. Cartier, the Minister of Militia and Defence of the Dominion. Mr. Trutch may be a very good judge of cribbing on the Caribo Road; but to my mind he is a very poor judge of a soldier. Now I have very exalted opinion of Canadian statesman in general, and it may be that Sir George finding Mr. Truch a bladder that wanted filling with wind upon the Confederation question, and thinking also that the appointment of Mr. Good might be acceptable to the people of this colony, which indeed it would not, and without due caution he may innocently foist upon us a man not posses ed o the leading qualifications necessary to form go d commanding officer of the forces of ill district. Mr. Good, I believe, has been a lin soldier; got disgusted with the service and sold out. Now in order to be perfect in the art of war, it requires a mawho has made the science of war ols study, a lifetime business, and has a natural turn for military affairs. Just imagine a line or toot soldier officer who has not made military tactics his whole study, and who has simply been drilled back of the barracks by the sergeant-major, -imagine such an one organising troops of cavalry, field batteries of artillery, companies of mounted infantry, companies of engineers, brigades and bat-teries of garrison artillery, military trains and commissariat, hospital and ambulance corps. In addition to all this, and the for mation and instruction of these corps, there to go through. Now, where are the words of command to come from? Not from Mr. Good, Classware pecause I venture to say that he knows n more about a six gun battery than he does about commanding a squadron in the royal navy. Surely Sir George must know his man, and weigh well what he is about before he trusts our tives, in case of invasion, into the hands of one who is ignorant of all other branches of the service, except some little experience which he has had some years agin foot drill. Remember the Bull Run affair ee what a Golgotha of destruction that was. In consequence of the commander not knowing how to manœuvre his troops, they killed each other. Save us from such a catastrophe in the beginning; and as we are about, to be come a military people, give us an experience commander, and one fresh from the field of operations. There are plenty of such officers in Canada, and the appointment should be entirely independent; and nothing less than a thorough military man, and a man who possesses a comprehensive knowledge of the various branches of the service should be appointed to fill such an important position. Let us have an officer of this sort by all in this colony is numbered with the things

The promoters of this undertaking state that Anticosti has an area of 2,250,000 acres. having valuable river fisheries besides being an eligible site for extensive sea fisheries that it has valuable timber and mineral products of economic importance-such as marole, limestone for building and other purpo ses, grindstones, &c.—besides peat bogs and salt springs. The opinion of Sir William Logan, given in his Geographical Report of 1857, is relied on as showing the agricultural capabilities of the island. He says, in the report, "that upwards of 1,000,000 acres are covered with soil of the very best quality and adds, "It is on such rocks, and in such conditions, and with such slittude, that the best soils of the western peninsula of Canada are placed as well as that of the Genere country in the state of New York. I have Old Hemp Rope, seen nothing in the actual soil as it exists to Old Copper, Etc. induce me to suppose that in so far as the soil is considered Anticosti will be any way inferior to these regions." The promoters of the undertaking entertain the belief that they would provide for a numerous agricultural and fishing population who would be enabled to maintain themselves in comfort and attain to independence. Already a population is being attracted to the Island according to the statements of Mr. Lavoie, commander of the Government schooner La Canadienne, who says in his report to the Minister of Marine:—
"This Island is beginning to be frequented and settled by hardy fishermen, tempted there by the desire of participating in its being as dry as tinder, owing to the continued rich fisheries, which, up to the last four years hot weather. Some fifteen or sixteen blocks were comparatively unexplored. A more were destroyed, and many of the inmates perfect knowledge of the surroundings of this Island, and more prudence on the part of the rapidly did the flames extend. The firemen fishermen, enables them to arrive, depart, and did all that was possible for them to do. It is around the Island in almost any kind of weather. The importance and value of its fisheries have also increased along with the number of fishermen. The waters bordering Anticosti are stocked with the same kind of destroyed. The loss will foot up probably more than $300,000, on which there is about $100,000 insurance. The firemen are still at work this morning, queuching the fires to get out the safes. The Board of Trustees met this morning to order the largest brick of some 18 or 20 of the burned buildnor so warm in summer as the mainland, the temperature being modified by the vicinity of the water in the Gulf, the harbors in the

ANNUAL REPORT 1871. THE FORTY-FIFTH ANNUAL GENERAL MEETING OF THE STANDARD LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY was held at Edinburgh, on Thursday the 20th April, 1871. H. MAXWELL INGLIS, ESQ , P. C. S. in the Chair

sitted to the meeting the ANNUAL REPORT by the Directors as to the wing Results were communicated in the Report :-

THE CHAIRMAN requested particular attention to the Report submitted by the Directors, which was then read and from which the following is an extract;

"On the present occasion the Board of Directors have not only to give an account of their preceedings during the first financial year of the Company's progress, but during the quinquennial period which closed on the 15th November, 1870.

"The Directors have now much satisfaction in reporting that each year of the quinquennial period has been attended by that steady and satisfactory progress which has for so long a period marked the operations of the Company They did Indeed at one thus, contemplate that their advancement might be checked; First, by the monetary disturbances in 1866, and latterly, by the financial difficulties of various English Assurance Offices, which had given risedo distrust and doubt; but it will be observed from the following table, showing the business transacted during the five years that the Company has pursued the calm and even tenor of its way without being in any degree affected by those disturbing elyments.

NEW ASSURANCES EFFECTED from 15th November, 1868 to 15th No

Giving an annual average of new business during the period of £1,142,762 15s. 5d. the first and last years of the period being above the average.

While the Directors direct attention to these results, as indicative of the industry with which the business habeen pursued, they would also claim credit for the exercise of a sound discretion in the selection of lives, the proposals made to the company during the period referred to, and from which these assurances were selected, amounting to no less than £7,151,170 16s. 5d. contained in 11,221 proposals, of which 9,190 were accepted, represented by the total of £5,713,813 7s. 3d. shown above. total of £5.713,813 7s. 3d. shown above.

The company has thus, it must be admitted, been eminently successful in obtaining new business, evincing the esteem in which it is held by the public; but a Report of this nature would be very incomplete were prominece no given to the Exits as well as the entrances. Death has claimed its usual percentage of the living and the company has fulfilled the object of its institution bymeeting with promptness the claims which were thus made upon its funds

"In transacting all this business, the D rectors have to the best of their ability, discharged the responsible duties devolved on them. It can well be imagined that in the acquisition of so much new business, in the dealings with so many accumulated transactions and in the settlement of such a large amount of claims, questions of importance requiring the exercise of care judgement, discretion and liberality, have presented themselves and probably the best gauge of the success which has attended the management in these respects is that so little had been heard of the Company as it pursued its way. The Directors may at any other time refer to the advanced position which this Company has always taken up in liberalising the conditions of the Assurance Contract which has greatly facilitated all these proceedings, but at present they will confine themselves to the simple duty of reporting progress.

The Directors have only further on this occasion to refer to the Investigation with reference to the Eighth Divisions of Profits now in progress. They are happy to state that the laborious calculations necessary to ascertain the Company sposition have very nearly been completed, but the results have not been placed before them by the Actuary, so that they can make no statement on the subject, but they are glad to have it in their power to state that a few weeks hence the whole will be reported in the most complete manner. These remarks apply to the actuarial results which show the liabilities of the Company. The investigation of the other side of the account, namely: the Assets, has already been completed and a nost satisfactory Report made by a Committee of Directors who have examined each security and each document constituting it.

The Chairman then addressed the meeting in congratulatory terms on the position of the Company.

The Report was unanimously approved of; and after the election of new Directors and a vote of thanks to the Office-Bearers, the meeting separated.
